

Agenda

- > Motivations
- ➤ Objectives
- > Team Members
- > Plan

Motivations

- * Reforming income tax in Iran and transition from scheduler tax system to personal one.
- The importance of details in designing such a system
- ❖ A long history of experiences in EU member states in implementing PIT.

Objectives

The First

- To introduce European Union angle into mainly non EU related studies
- Identify unifying principles of PIT in EU as well as its details (comparative Study)

The Second

- To Promote research experience for young researchers and scholars and practitioners in European Union issues.
- To raise new research questions, comparative studies and so on

The Third

 To foster the publication and dissemination of the results of academic research.

Team Members

Marco Greggi
Lawyer and Professor of International Taxation Law at the University of Ferrara, Italy

Georges Cavalier

Associate Professor of Law at the University of Lyon, France.

Montserrat Hermosín Álvarez

Professor in Tax Law at Pablo de Olavide (Spain).

Nataša Žunić Kovačević
Full professor of Law at the Faculty of Law, University of Rijeka, Croatia

Anna Miotto

Research Fellow in Taxation at University of Ferrara

Jakub Chowaniec
Assistant Prof. in Tax Law
University of Warsaw (Poland)

Ali Nassiri Aghdam
Economist and Assistant Professor at the University of ATU, Iran

The Plan (Second Week)

Saturday, July 8th

The Interaction between PIT and VAT Tax Inspections and Data Management

Audit and Control

Monday, July 12th

PIT in Croatia

Arbitration Procedures and PIT

Taxation of Digital Economy

Wednesday, July 14th

PIT in Spain

Introduction to Polish Income Tax

PIT Across EU Countries

PIT and CIT in Italy

Distinction between Business and other sources of income

Sunday, July 11th

International aspects of Personal Income Tax

Tuesday, July 13th

Thank You

Ali Nassiri Aghdam

alin110@atu.ac.ir

https://piteu.atu.ac.ir